BEGIN CRUSADE AGAINST FLIES

Campaign of Education Is Being Waged to Prevent More Typhoid Cases.

A course of education is now being taken up in a fight against the common house fly in an effort to avert another epidemic of typhoid fever.

Professor John Z. Brown of the medical department of the University of Utah will address public school principals this afternoon on the best method of fighting the fly in the schools.

After waiting until the fight is practically over, the city board of health yesterday decided to send out postal cards to every one who ships milk to Salt Lake. These postals contain instructions about methods of preventing contagion. Milkmen are especially warned not to use bottles that have been collected from infected homes.

Only two new cases of typhoid were reported to the city board of health yesterday, as follows: Florence Jacobson, aged 16, 23 North Eighth West street.

George R. Knight, aged 21, 529 West Seventh South street.

Several carload lots have been shipped to Salt Lake, Ogden and other points, both in and out of the state. Other fruits, however, are not being sent out to any great extent.

Atmosphere counts most in millinery—it's the atmosphere that denotes, to the experienced eye, the quality of the hat, and there are few artists in the world who can instill that elusive "effect" into the design that particular and discerning women seek.

Our models, coming as they do from the world's greatest masters, are exclusive and distinctive. It is from Brandwin's, it has "atmosphere."

He grew worse, however, and went to St. Louis, where he died this week. The funeral will be held in St. Louis today.
